News and Comment

Congressman Underwood warns the people not to expect too much of the new tariff law at once. It will take some time to adjust itself and then a billion will be saved to the tax payers. Upon such assurance we can wait a time with patience. Relief is in sight.

A Winchester paper says the town is on the verge of becoming a city. It will stay on the verge, too, till it gets more street cars. She can never be a city till she has more than one and that marked No. 13.

Celebrations come high, but it seems that Louisville must have them. The Perry Centennial cost $31,637.50, or about $5,000 more than was guaranteed. Those who will have to raise the balance will wish that that the Commodore and his men had met the enemy and were theirs.

The argument that will cut more figure in cutting down accessions to the ranks of the suffragettes is the statement prepared after full investigation that a woman reduces her chances for marrying 50 per cent. by doing so.

It is stated that within the last 20 years 80,733 trespassers on railroad rights-of-way in the United States were killed and 91,616 were injured. Had they read the sign "Stop, Look, Listen" and heeded it, they would not now be finding out the secrets of the bourse from which no traveler returns.

The registration of women fell off about 1,000 at Lexington, greatly to the disgust of the promoters of votes for women. The dear things are finding out that there are some matters at least that should be left to the men, such as voting and wearing breeches.

Secretary of State Bryan says the "world is growing better." We should think it would feel better to a man who has just pocketed $6,500 to the good for a few lectures.

Texas has six candidates for Governor. The Lone Star State is too big to do anything in a small way.

We are afraid that Col. Roosevelt left no one at Arrazatodon to battle for the Lord, or as he may see it, for him.

The doctor who discovered appendicitis has gone hence. Serves him right. He'll know better next time than to be fooling around in the abdominal cavity.

It may not be exactly correct to say that Chairman Thomas A. Combs is making monkeys of the fusion advocates in Lexington, because nature doubtless did that for most of them, but the way he is showing them up is a caution. He is striking square to the record, too, and making votes for Democracy every time he takes his pen in hand. It really begins to look like taking candy from a child for the Democrats to win this time.

The Department of Agriculture announces that the Tylenchus devastatrix has invaded the United States and the future of the onion industry is in jeopardy. The invader with the imposing name is known also as the onion eel worm and has hitherto confined his operations to foreign countries. Even in grief over this sorrowful announcement a gleam of hope appears. The fellow who is accustomed to eating onions can't gratify his propensity to blow his breath in our face as often as formerly.

Paris is about to have a water famine.

but as she is "wet," people possibly use it there only for laundry purposes, so it won't hurt much.

The Climax Living Up To Its Name.

Of course our patrons observed what a great paper the last issue of the Climax was. It accomplished the feat no other paper in Richmond ever did, of printing at 3 o'clock p. m. three or four columns of Judge Benton's charge to the grand jury, which he did not begin delivering till 10:30 a. m. It gave the results of the first game in the World's Series of base ball, played at New York the same afternoon and local items up to the minute, with all the general news condensed for quick reading.

We have set the pace and intend to keep it. All we ask is a reasonable support and we will give the people of Richmond and vicinity a newspaper such as they never dreamed could be issued here.

For only $1 a year the Climax, issued twice a week, is the cheapest paper in the State. We can take a few more subscribers at that price. Don't hesitate to try and be one of them.

Buy Before Further Advance.

The price of radium has been advanced $10,000 a gram because of an unprecedented demand for the precious substance. Radium is now quoted at $115,000 a gram, which means a pound of it would be valued at more than $52,000,000, if such a quantity of it could be amassed.

Postal Rates in 1830.

According to a table of the postoffice in the United States, as they were Oct. 1, 1830, the whole number of offices in the U. S. was 8,610. The rates of postage established by Congress in 1825 were: On a single letter, composed of one piece of paper, for any distance not exceeding 30 miles, 6 cents; over 30 miles and not exceeding 80 miles, 10 cents; over 80 and not exceeding 150 miles, 12 1/2 cents; over 150 and not exceeding 400 miles, 18 cents; over 400 miles, 25 cents; a letter composed of two pieces of paper was charged double these rates; of three pieces, triple and four pieces quadruple these rates. For newspapers the rate was 1 cent for 100 miles and 1 1/2 cents for over 100 miles.—Lexington Journal.

Prohibition in Kansas.

Attorney General Dawson, of Kansas, in enumerating the good that has resulted from prohibition in that State, sets out the good things briefly as follows:

There are 516,000 children in the public schools in Kansas who never saw an open saloon in that State.

More than half of the county jails are empty.

Sixty-five out of the 105 counties of the State have no inmates of the State penal institutions.

Many counties have not had a jury try a case in ten years.

Eighty-seven counties have no insane.

Fifty-four counties have no feeble minded.

Ninety-six counties have no inebriates.

Twenty-nine counties have not a single inmate on their poor farms.

Kansas is the richest State in the Union; its average wealth per capita is $1,703.

Less than ten of the 796 newspapers in the State accept liquor advertisements, one of them being in Atchison.

Fur Center of The World.

The United States Government through Secretary of Commerce Redfield has just made a decision that will make St. Louis the fur center of the world.

That is, to change the sale of all the Government catch of all seal skins, foxes and other Alaska furs, from London to St. Louis.

This is the first time in history that the American seal catch has been marketed through American channels.

The history of the seal is one of the most absorbing and romantic of all the great American industries. While the U. S. Government has produced wonderfully interesting books on the subject, and which can be had free of charge, the whole country will be interested in a few facts bearing on the seal history of North America, especially in the light of the recent action of the Department of Commerce, which stamps St. Louis as the fur center of the world.

The price paid to Russia for the whole of Alaska was $7,000,000. The revenue from the seal islands alone—rough, barren, forbidding spots that comprise but an infinitesimal area of the Alaska map, has been $15,000,000—more than twice the sum paid for the entire territory.

During the first year of Uncle Sam's possession, the catch was about 200,000 to 300,000 seals, but the herd has diminished so considerably that as a result laws have been enacted by which the herds will be conserved, and future catches increased.

This great diminution of the herds has been the result of pelagic sealing—the killing of seals in the open sea. Whole fleets would sometimes lay on the seal islands while their crews killed the female seals which swam out to sea seeking food.

At sea the sexes can not be distinguished, and the females predominating the pelagic catch is made up largely of this class, the percentage being from 85 to 90 per cent of females. The death of a female seal was not the only evil. She was out seeking food for her pup which she had left on shore, so that her death meant also the death of the young one.

The United States, Russia, Japan and Great Britain have made a pact which stipulates that no longer shall the fur seal be killed on the high seas.

The seal is a polygamist. The larger and stronger males have harems, ranging from 20 to 40 in number according to the fighting strength of the "King of the Harem." One bull has been known to have 200 cows in his harem.

Naturally there is a large surplus of mateless males whose one object in life is to get a harem of their own, entailing continuous warfare and bloodshed in which often the female is torn to pieces or maimed in the struggle for ownership. To kill off a goodly number of these disturbing bachelors of the herd is therefore necessary—not only for the good of the herd itself, but also for the good of the skins, for naturally a mated skin or an old one has very little value.

Nearly two years ago Congress made a law stopping the killing of seals entirely on U. S. Islands for five years, except seals needed for food by natives on the islands.

In 1837 a seal skin brought from $2 to $3; in 1890, $17 to $30; while in 1900, the price reached the $40 mark. The price on seal garments, however, have indicated a fictitious value, due to the heavy duty entailed by London shipments, and fur dealers have had to demand an exorbitant figure for an article is a which home product and should, and could have been, bought for much less.

At present time St. Louis is the largest primary fur market in the world, and is estimated that three-fourths of all the furs trapped on the North American Continent are shipped to St. Louis houses to be sold.

Now Let Business Go On.

(Editorial in New York Herald.)

"This is not a day of triumph; it is a day of dedication," were the words of Woodrow Wilson upon assuming the Presidency on March 4.

It might be said that yesterday was the day of triumph, when Mr. Wilson placed his signature upon the tariff bill, the act marked the accomplishment of the prime pledge upon which the Democratic party sought and was entrusted with power. It has kept the faith.

Probably no single provision of any tariff bill ever suited all parts of the country, but the Underwood bill was drafted unquestionably by men who sought to insure what they believe to be the greatest good for the greatest number. This in itself is a refreshing feature of the bill, and may be taken as a hopeful sign of the times.

It is significant, too, that men who persistently expressed belief that disaster lurked in the Underwood schedules with the accomplishment of his chief measure of Democratic doctrine are changing their tune. Already the skies are clearing for them.

Now let business go on!

THREE CONSTRUCTIONS ALREADY.

Who shall decide when judges disagree? It is remarkable that no important law is ever regarded as so plain that judges do not disagree on the meaning of its provisions. This fact is strongly impressed by the various interpretations placed on the Mann White Slave Law by the Federal judges before whom cases under it have come. In the prosecutions against the California men Judge Van Fleet held that it fully covered them when two men took two women, old enough to know better and long past the age of consent, to a neighboring State and they were given penitentiary sentences while the women went free.

On the other hand Judge Pollock, of Kansas, expressed the belief that the purpose of the law was to punish certain forms of traffic in women and in effect decided that it did not apply in the California cases. Another judge, we believe, has rendered an opinion in variance to both of these.

It is a pity that law based on good intention and of urgent need should be the subject of conflicting decisions and that all such laws have to run the gauntlet of the courts up to the Supreme Court of the United States. No penalty can be too severe for men who seduce women and for persons who traffic in innocent girls, but when the men and women are equally guilty and equally abandoned, there seems no need for the interpretation of the Mann law, but that local courts should deal to them at once what should be coming to them. The Mann law was intended for a higher and greater purpose—that of the prevention of prostitution and the saving of young girls from destruction.

Some idiot who tried to be funny remarked the other night in Louisville that the Kentucky Title Savings Bank and Trust Company had closed. Of course at that hour every other bank was closed, but the one to whom he made the remark took it that the institution had failed. He told it that way and the news spread like wildfire. Next morning there was a run on the bank and it took six tellers to pay the scared depositors, all of whom who demanded it being paid as fast as they applied. The tellers were kept at work all night, and when they were convinced that they could get their money, the depositors didn't want it so badly and the run was checked. The institution is perfectly solvent and proved it very fully.

We once knew of a similarly useless run on a bank, which the officers stopped by getting all the notes, gold and silver money that they had or could borrow and piled it up on the counters. There were many thousands of it and tellers were there to pay it out as fast as demanded. A few withdrew their money, but the rest seeing the piles of it and the readiness of the officers to pay it out, decided that their holdings were perfectly safe there and retired. Often, rather than otherwise runs on banks are ill advised and a little strategy, like that told of will stop them. People are easy to scare about their money, but almost as easy to have their confidence restored.

THAT Dr. Arthur Yager, formerly president of Georgetown College, is a scholar and a good schoolmaster we are here both to affirm and to commend, but he is not the kind of a man that deserves recognition by the Democratic appointing power. He has been appointed Governor of Porto Rico, but his appointment will not be pleasing to those Democrats who, like ourselves, believe in party regularity and official reward for party service. If a Democrat at all, Dr. Yager is a very weak-kneed one. He has supported Democratic nominees when they suited him, which has not been often, and his principal efforts along party lines have, we are told, been to knock men and measures Democratic. His appointment will not add a single vote to the Democratic majority in Kentucky. The President might have been misinformed as to his political pedigree, but Senator James shouldn't have been fooled.

THAT the railroads should pay their just proportion of taxation few will deny. They should be taxed with discrimination and politics should not be allowed to figure. Unfortunately politics too often plays a big part, injuring both the cause and the State. The franchise tax is now under consideration and while we are not sufficiently advised to express an opinion in the premises, we can express admiration for the splendid fight the attorney for the Chesapeake & Ohio, Mr. Garrett B. Wall, is making for his road. He is quiet though aggressive and always on the job. If any road secures a reduction we are sure that the C. & O. will.

John R. Gibson & Co.

THE Government has issued a bulletin stating that special investigators declare that popcorn is superior, when properly prepared for the table, to many of the breakfast foods now on the market. Popcorn is easy to grow. The bulletin says that $30 worth can be grown on 20x40 feet and put up in 5 cent packages would net a good amount. The experts tell how popcorn may be toothsome prepared and advise children to take up that branch of home farming. It is a good idea, but the bulletin is a little late in its issue. Last spring it would have proven very valuable in lessening the high cost of living. By next year we hope the tariff will have done it, though popcorn can be made to help.

TODAY at 2 o'clock President Wilson pressed the button as a signal to blow up the last barrier that separated the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific. The completion of this great work marks an era in the world's maritime trade and the accomplishment of a long desired end. The Panama Canal has been a costly undertaking, but it is worth it and more and may prove even more valuable than its projectors imagined.

We have no reason to love and as a matter of fact we do not adore Mr. Richard W. Knott, of the Louisville Post, but when a long-haired Canadian uses a Chicagoan's paper to traduce him, we give home pride full sway and not by the alien pair that we claim the prior and sole right to "wallop our own jackass" and that they must keep hands off or suffer the consequences.

SENATOR JAMES is in Kentucky for the first time in ten months and office seekers will doubtless make his stay as lively as possible. The Senator is one of great men in Congress and one of the President's most trusted lieutenants. He did a great work in getting the tariff bill through the Senate and is entitled to praise and gratitude.

The World's Series.

At the end of the ninth inning neither New York nor Philadelphia had scored in the second game of the World's Series, Wednesday, and another inning had to be played. New York scored 3 to Philadelphia's 0.

Thursday Philadelphia downed New York 2 to 1, in the presence of 35,000 people. Philadelphia won the fourth game of the world's series by the score 5 to 3. New York used two pitchers, Naughton and Demaree. Chief Bender pitched for the Athletics.

Large Sweet Potatoes.

Mrs. Butler Carrier has left at our office two beautiful specimens of sweet potatoes of her raising. They are large, of fine color and solid; in fact, as fine specimens as we ever saw. One that she has weighed 3.34 pounds. She planted only a small piece of ground, but reports the yield unusually large and fine.

Clark's Code of Honor.

Different communities have different notions of honor. Over in Clark county, for instance, it does not seem to be considered dishonorable to violate the law by furnishing money to buy votes, but is dishonorable to obey the law by answering the grand jury's questions.—Cynthia's Democrat.

Bible Scholars All.

Harry Sommers, who prides himself on his knowledge of Scriptural matters and even goes to the extent of writing a sermon in his paper, the Elizabethan News, every week, says:

"Editor E. L. Leigh, of the Bowling Green Messenger, and Col. W. P. Walton, of the Richmond Climax, are debating the question as to which of them knows the most Scripture. Graham Vreeland, of the State Journal, comes along and claims to know more than both of them, and Louis Landrum, of the Danville Messenger, doubts whether any of them is informed as to Holy Writ. As we know all of these boys' quite well, we are thoroughly satisfied that all of them know more about running a newspaper than they do about the Bible. Now, if they want to learn something about the Bible, they might join the Sunday School classes of Tom Underwood, of the Hopkinsville News Era, or Archie Rowman, of the Woodford Sun."

Ed Leigh says he can't understand why two editors should not discuss scripture without exciting comment and he commends the study of the Bible to all "heaven editors." There seem to be so many Bible students, scriptural expositors and Sunday school teachers in the editorial ranks that we are at a loss to know where Ed is going to find his "heaven." We don't remember that Kentucky ever had more than one self-confessed "heaven" editor and he has where all good "heaven" go. And those who knew him well said he wasn't such a bad old scout after all.—Frank Fort State Journal.

This reminds us that we tried to say recently in the Lexington Herald that Editor Graham Vreeland knew no scripture except what Bro. Walter, meaning his brother, Rev. W. Q. Vreeland, told him. The printer got it wrong, told him: thus destroying the point, as we haven't given Graham any lectures on the scriptures for some time.

NEWS NOTES

A woman was bound, gagged and robbed at Lexington Wednesday night.

In an attempt to starve herself a California woman lived 67 days before expiring.

As soon as the tax suits are settled the Burley Tobacco Society will distribute all the pool funds.

Ulian beat his record, which was the world's, at the Lexington Trot going the mile in 1:34 1/2.

Winchester's registration shows 803 Democrats, 563 Republicans, 45 Progressives and 94 Independents.

They must be office mad in Lexington. Twenty candidates are out for Commission and six for police judge.

The low church Episcopalians triumphed over the high in New York by electing the president of the House of Deputies.

Five members of the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania have been indicted for cruelty to animals, especially dogs, which are operated on alive and otherwise tortured.

A PERSONAL LETTER.

Mrs. Greve Writes to Those Who Suffer from Eczema.

"I want others who suffer from skin troubles to know that there is no other remedy equal to Saxo Salve. I had a serious trouble with my hands. It was like a burn in appearance but it itched and smarted dreadfully. My doctor called it eczema. The first application of Saxo Salve relieved them and soon cured them entirely and for cracks in the fingers Saxo Salve does wonders."—Mrs. W. C. Greve, Birmingham, N. Y.

Letters like the above are continually coming in proving that the penetrating antiseptic and healing power of Saxo Salve is remarkable in all kinds of eczema, salt-rheum, tetter, barber's itch or any skin affection.

Try Saxo Salve on our guarantee to give back your money if it does not help you.

Fifty thousand words of legal argument by attorneys for and against Gov. Salzer, of New York, brought a verdict in the trial of the impeached Governor one day nearer. There was talk last night that a vote might be taken Saturday.

A total of 51,500 persons registered in Louisville during the two days' registration, an increase of 3,852 over the two days of last year. The Democrats registered 28,876; the Progressives 13,434; Republicans, 7,333, and the Independents, 4,927.

Herbert Thomas, alias Thomas Edwards, a prisoner in jail at Mobile, has confessed that he was one of the three who recently held up the Alabama Great Southern train near Woodstock, Ala., according to Chief of Police Crenshaw.

Pandora, the 3-year-old filly owned by Mrs. L. A. Livingston, of New Jersey, won the four-mile Kentucky Endurance Stake, valued at $15,000, at Churchill Downs in 7:37 1/5. Flora Fina was second and Prince Eugene third. The game little mare collapsed as she reached the wire.

With only one dissenting voice 2,000 bankers at the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association yesterday ratified the action of the conference of bankers in demanding amendments to the Federal Reserve Act now pending before Congress.

An improvement in the condition of the corn crop during the past month to the extent of 22,000,000 bushels in the estimated final production, was the feature of the October crop report. The indicated final production is placed at 2,373,000,000 bushels. Tobacco prospects increased 1.9 per cent.

A concerted defense by Administration forces against criticisms of the Currency Bill by the banker's convention at Boston and what was alleged to be an organized effort to hinder its consideration and passage, served to clear the air in Washington, it is stated, and inspire new confidence in Democratic circles.

Mr. Cobb Very Low.

"Mr. Harvey Cobb, of Red House, who has been in poor health for several years, is reported much worse in the past day or two, and it is thought he may pass away at any time.

Silver Foxes.

One hundred thousand dollars cash will be paid within a few days for ten pairs of Alaska silver black foxes, raised on a fox farm in Southern Alaska. The purchaser is W. B. Purdy, of Boston, president of the Massachusetts Silver Fox Co., owners of the largest fur farm in the world, on Prince Edward Island. One of the animals Purdy will purchase is worth its weight in $20 gold pieces. This fox is a male and weighs a few ounces over 20 pounds. The Alaskan reynard's weight in gold would be $6,000. It is valued at $15,000.

Get The Address Right.

About 13,000,000 pieces of mail matter were sent to the dead letter office last year. A large proportion of this matter could have been delivered because it was improperly addressed.

The Postoffice Department has prepared for distribution in letter carrier cities a card showing a model form of address and containing instructions as to the proper method of preparing a letter or package for mail. The department asks senders of mail matter to address it with ink; to write plainly and in full the name of the person addressed, and the street number, postoffice and State of the address.

Hair Goods.

I make your combings into switches, braids, transformations and other hair goods at a small price. I also remodel hair goods, add hair to your old braids and transformations. Braids colored and re-woven at moderate price. Mrs. Mand Mackey Walker, 207 W. Main St. Phone 545. Residence 302. 52-1

PUBLIC SALE OF

BANK STOCK

I will sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder in front of the Court House door in Richmond, Ky.,

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1913,

at 1:30 p. m., the following bank stock:

14 shares of the Capital Stock of the Citizens National Bank.

This stock is of the par value of $100.

The Citizens has for many years paid an annual dividend of six per cent, and the Madison National Bank of ten per cent.

Both have large surpluses, and both are non-taxable. Purchaser will get the benefit of any needed semi-annual dividends, payable January 1, 1914.

The sale offers a rare opportunity to make strictly gilt-edged investment.

In the above styled action, the undersigned

Master Commissioner of said Court will, on Saturday, the 25th day of October, 1913, at 2 o'clock p. m., on the premises, sell to the highest and best bidder at public auction, two tracts of land located in Richmond, Kentucky, and described as follows:

Tract No. 1.—A certain house and lot located in Richmond, Ky., on North street, and being the same conveyed to

Geo. H. Myers by W. H. Miller and wife, and by said Myers to Henry C. Hargis, and by him devised to Della J. Hargis in his last will and testament, and being described as follows: Beginning at a stake on the edge of North street, corner of the lot now owned by S. T. 34 W 270 feet to a stake in the line of Mrs. H. H.

Hanger, thence with her line S 64 3/4 E

120 feet to a stake in the line of

J. H. Hale Dean, with Neff line N 38 E

278 feet and 8 inches to a stake in Neff line, thence with the edge of North street, thence with the edge of North street, N

67 W 70 feet to the beginning.

Tract No. 2.—A vacant pasture having an entrance on North street in Richmond, Ky., adjoining the property of A. R.

Burnam, and being a part of the real estate devised to Della J. Hargis by Henry C. Hargis, deceased, and described as follows: Beginning at a stake on the north side of North street, and about four feet west of the gate-post and in line of A. R. Burnam; thence leaving the street with said Burnam; thence continuing with his line N 62 3/4 W 225 1/4 feet to a fence post, corner to Mrs. Hensley, N 18 1/2 E 226 feet to a stake in the S line of the L. & A. Railroad, right of way; thence with the line of the railroad right of way S 70 7/8 E 114 1/2 feet to a stake near the edge of the pond, corner to Richmond Electric Light Company; thence crossing the pond S 28 7/8 W 245 feet to a fence post, corner to Elmer Deatherage; thence with line to him S 70 E 33 links to a fence post S 21 1/2 W 405 feet to a stake in the line of J. C. Chensault; thence with line to him N 75 1/2 E 448 feet to a fence post, S 39 1/4 W 827 feet to a stake in the line of W. H. Miller, thence with line to him S 28 3/4 W 455 feet to a stake on the north side of North street; thence with the line of the street N 61 W 113 links to the beginning, containing 10 3/4 acres.

Terms.—Said parcels of land will be sold on a credit of six and twelve months time, purchaser being required to execute sale bonds for equal amounts payable to the Commissioner, bearing six per cent. interest from the day of sale until paid, or the purchaser will be permitted to pay cash on the confirmation of the sale. Possession will be given to the purchaser to both pieces of the property on January 1, 1914.

Attention

I feel certain there would be fewer mail orders sent out of this town if the folks of this community realized how complete and up to the minute a stock of boys' and men's clothing and furnishings is at their disposal right here in this store.

Most people who order by mail do so under the belief that they are saving money and obtaining the benefit of a wider range of selection.

Every one acknowledges that when conditions are usual, the local merchant who assumes a liberal share of the burden of taxation and is in the forefront of every movement for the town's best interests is entitled to the preference.

Now my friends, the only favor I ask is that you investigate and satisfy yourself as to the correctness of my assertion. For example, I feature that splendid make of hand tailored clothes for young men, the famous "Collegian" line, also the National all wool standard for boys, "WOOLY BOY" clothes, the "Florsheim Shoe for Men and the "Sil Kid" Shoe for Women.

See the great and pleasing variety of styles and patterns, compare these clothes which represent the utmost in quality, together with my very reasonable prices, with any mail order merchant you wish. Consider that you do not have to wait days or weeks for what you want, neither are you expected to pay for your selection before you see it. Also when any purchase you make here is not satisfactory I consider it a privilege to make it so and with out quibbling or waste of time consumed by correspondence.

Your patronage is solicited entirely on a basis of satisfying value and personal service which is possible only when customer and merchant meet face to face.

I hope you will take advantage of this invitation and put me to the test. Then you will do full justice to yourself in the matter of obtaining the greatest possible value and satisfaction in your clothing purchases.

Yours very truly

S. S. PARKES, Plaintiff.

W. H. JONES, ETC., Defendants.

Under and by virtue of a judgment and order of sale rendered at the October Term, 1912, of the Madison Circuit Court in the above styled action, the undersigned Master Commissioner of said Court will, on it being the 15th day of the October Term of the Madison Circuit Court, sell to the highest and best bidder at public auction, in front of the Court House door in Richmond, Kentucky, at 11 a. m., two tracts of land located on the waters of Otter creek in Madison county, or so much thereof as will produce the sum of $3,929.00, the amount ordered made, viz:

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1913,

Tract No. 1.—Bounded by Otter creek, Joel Karr's heirs, Emory, etc., and being a part of the dower land allotted to Mrs. Lucy Ann Karr out of the land of her late husband, T. M. Karr, and being the same land conveyed to W. H. Jones by Samuel Biggs and wife by deed dated December 31, 1894, recorded in Deed Book 42 at page 613, and containing 12 acres, to which reference is hereby made.

Tract No. 2.—Beginning at a stake corner to Mrs. Karr's dower; thence to Burgin's line; thence to Purcell Karr's line, and containing 12 acres, this being the same tract of land conveyed to W. H. Jones and Elizabeth Karr by P. C. Karr and wife by deed dated December 18, 1894, recorded in Deed Book 30 at page 40, to which reference is hereby made.

I will sell the interest of W. H. Jones in Tract No. 2, if the first tract of 96 acres does not bring enough money to pay plaintiff's debt, interest and costs.

Terms.—Said land will be sold on a credit of 6 and 12 months time, the purchaser being required to execute two sale bonds: one due in 6 months and the other in 12 months time, payable to the Commissioner, bearing 6 per cent. interest from date of sale until paid, or purchased; and will sell the several tracts of land on time a lien will be retained to secure the payment of the purchase money.

M. E. JONES, ETC., Plaintiff.

VS. ORDER OF SALE

Mary Joseph Jones, ETC., Defendant.

By virtue of a judgment rendered in this Honorable Court at the October term, 1913, directing the undersigned Commissioner to expose the land hereinafter described to public sale, I will on the 24th day of October 1913, on the premises between the four of ten and eleven o'clock offer for sale all of the tract of land hereinafter described. I will then divide said land into parcels to suit the convenience of the probable purchasers, and will sell the several parcels and I will then sell the farm as a whole, and the bid or bids producing the most money will be accepted.

The purchaser will be required to give bond with approved surety, having the force and effect of a judgment, and purchasers will please come prepared to execute the bond that day.

Said land is well improved farming land, containing a handsome dwelling and plenty of never failing water, has a rural route delivery and a telephone line, and borders on the Menell

Last Lecture Tonight.

Through Dr. D. H. All of his lectures are good, but those who were there say that that of last night, "The Wheels of Justice," was as fine as anything they ever heard. "The Citadel of the Home," is the subject for tonight and it will close the series, which have proved so interesting and entertaining.

The editor of the Climax returns his thanks to Gov. McNary for appointment as delegate to the Conservation Congress at Washington, November 18-20. Clean Elections.

Election frauds seem to be a thing of the past in Fayette, judging by Judge Kerr's decision to the grand jury. Said he: "I know nothing of what was done in the recent primary. If no money was spent by any of the candidates, we are nearer the millennium than we have ever before approached. I do not feel certain, however, vote buying to the extent heretofore indulged, was not practiced. I trust you will find that election to have been honest. Public sentiment has reached the point in Fayette county where it will not permit election frauds."

Parisian Sage supplies hair needs. It is delicately perfumed—non sticky or greasy. Surely try a 50c bottle. 2f.

PEWEE'S DRUG STORE.

All Honor To Dr. Crabbe.

When Dr. Crabbe suggested that Madison county hold three Farmers' Chautauques, everyone thought of their value to the farmer and his family; but no one thought definitely of the advertising value that has become so apparent in the past three weeks. Never in the history of Madison county has the outside press had so much to say about us. The Courier Journal has published from a half column to a column a day, and the Lexington Herald has used at least a half a column. This is the best class of advertising any community can have.

Many people in the county wondered what would be the outcome of having these Chautauques in an old conservative county like Madison; but if in the beginning there were any doubting Thomases they are keeping very quiet for the Chautauques are the sole topic in the neighborhoods in which they were held. They have been fine, because they have brought into each neighborhood experts in many lines from all parts of the country, and also because it has made possible the "getting together" of the people of the community.

At Waco the crowds were good and enthusiastic from the opening day until the close; at Kingston the numbers were greater and the enthusiasm more sustained, because the people understood better what to expect; and at White Hall, which closed Wednesday evening, the crowds on some of the days were large enough to be rather uncomfortable, and the seating capacity of the big tent was taxed on several occasions. Taken by large and small, the Farmers' Chautauques have proven themselves as worthy to take a place as one of the new strong movements toward a solution of a comfortable, profitable and sane country life.

The average person has been too prone to view the Chautauque as a summer and enlarged Farmers' Institute. This is not the case at all; the many demonstrations which are given to the farmers afford the farmer, his wife and children an opportunity to ask questions, to bring soils to be tested, to see grafting and budding, to have each and every cow's milk tested, and all of this done by experts who know exactly what they are doing. And while these tests are being made, it is so easy for the farmer to discuss the methods used locally. This very matter of discussion by the local people makes the strength of this unique institution.

It is a matter of profound gratification that our county was the second one in the world to try the Farmers' Chautauques, and gives us an opportunity to share with the Commercial Club, of Louisville, and the many other agencies in the State that are working for better rural education, in the advertising that is coming to Kentucky from the outside press. It might be well in closing to quote from a late editorial in the Louisville Times, which is headed, "Advertising a State."

"Lately the Farmers' Chautauques, which have grown out of this great movement, are being treated editorially in papers and magazines from widely separated parts of the country. To illustrate the real advertising value of our educational awakening, it might be well to give a list of some of the magazines and periodicals which have come to the Commercial Club in the past few weeks containing reference to this new brand of Chautauques. Farm and Ranch, of Dallas, Texas, reaching over one hundred thousand Western farmers, treats the matter editorially and wishes to know, 'Why can't the Texas farmer have chautauques?' Hoard's Dairyman, of Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin, having a mailing list of over sixty thousand dairymen scattered over the whole United States, uses a story of the chautauques in Warren county. The Breeders Gazette, of Chicago, will soon publish an illustrated story of the Chautauques in both Warren and Madison counties, by James Speed, and with an introductory editorial by Joe Wing, the Alliance King, of Ohio. Last, but by no means least, the old, settled and conservative Youth's Companion, of Boston, has heard that there are absolutely happening in the Bluegrass and the Pennyrite, and has written to Mr. J. H. McFerran asking for a story concerning the movement that is going to revolutionize the old State."

Runaway Marriage Made Public.

After a romantic courtship of nearly half a score of years, through school days, graduating honors and teachers' diplomas, true love was still delightfully pleasant to the grown lassie and manly laddie, now a gentleman of noble bearing, a partner with his father in a mercantile vocation. She with resolution firm for all impending duties, keeping the love of laddie, yes, love deeper grown, for now two hearts beat as one. But a fellow teacher and a very dear friend had a call to teach in far away Dakota and she entreated to have her friend, the betrothed maiden, go with her. Mother consented. The day was set, the fat was issued; the lovers now repented, they planned rebellion. When the first bud of their secrecy blossomed into full bloom flower of radiance and beauty, as on Sept. 16, '13, at 2:30 p. m. in the parlors of the Glendon Hotel, in Richmond, was revealed Mr. Walter C. Webb, of Irvine, and Miss Bertha Broughton, of Waco, were made husband and wife by Rev. Alexander Sanders, of the Irvine Christian church, witnessed by E. S. Lund, superintendent of schools of Estill county, and Miss Lula Farmer, of Berea.

Immediately after the ceremony a consultation was held to devise some way to escape the separation of the newly wedded and to keep the whole transaction a secret until she returned. The consultation ended. She must spend the winter in the zero clime of the snow-capped Rockies, while he remained in the sunny Southland of old Kentucky. The groom accompanied the bride to Cincinnati and found in the depot the waiting teacher, nervous and almost frightened at the long delay of the train. They separated. In less than ten days she grew tired of her school and her environment, came back home to mother's love and to finish teaching school in Madison county that she had resigned before leaving, and Walter, as of yore called on Miss Bertha to while away the tedious hours, and they both forgot to tell the old folks and neighbors that they were married. They will know when they read this confession. If any one feels hurt over this little romance, forgive them, for they did not go to do it and they will not any more.

Lucien Matthews was arrested, charged with cutting Kate Mason, another negro. He claims that it was an accident, but will doubtless find Judge Greenleaf from Missouri when his case comes up this afternoon and he makes that plea.

Too Late.

The Register is too late in its strictures against the use of First street and Main as a watermelon market. The season is about over, the God, and the few of us who are left to tell the tale of rotten rinds, fifth and stench, hope now to be able to pull through.

Burley 60 Per Cent. of Average.

The Burley Tobacco Society in a meeting at Lexington, Wednesday, figured from reports that the average yield of the Burley crop is 60 per cent. The highest average is in Montgomery, 85, and the lowest in Hardin, 27. Madison was not reported.

No Trials.

On being arrested in Lexington and brought here before Judge Shackelford, "Blue" Turk Turner, one of the Red Lick feudists, gave bond for his examination trial next Tuesday. Luther Martin, charged with stealing papers from a man's buggy, waived examination and was held to the grand jury.

Fine Show.

The Acme Amusement Co., which has been here all the week and which will close Saturday night, is drawing like a porous plaster. Friday and Saturday night pictures only. Friday night Pilot comedy, "The Bug Professor"; Thursday comedy, "An Unromantic Maiden"; America drama, "An even Exchange"; Saturday night, the two reel Broncho, "The Madcap"; and the Thursday comedy "Waiting For Hubby".

For the week beginning Monday, Oct. 16, will have a week of feature pictures, and have engaged the Singing Duo of Kane and Wagner, known as the exponents of comedy and song. They have just completed a six weeks engagement at Lexington and are some singers.

Fine Record.

The Mason, Hanger & Carmichael Company is "cleaning up" after finishing its contract for the L. & N. between this city and Austinville. The company was the last and the first out and completed this seven miles of grading etc., in a remarkably short time. Three steam shovels were operated and in addition a large force of men were used. This company can boast of never having a fight within its camp during the whole time it has been here, and the police have never had to go there for an arrest. This company also had the contract for lowering the L. & E. grade from the depot to where it intersects the new line nine feet. This has been completed.—Winchester Democrat.

Death of a Former Resident.

Mr. Lloyd Borders died Sunday morning, October 5, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. C. Meeks, in Indianapolis, Indiana. He was 68 years of age and had been in poor health for several years. The immediate cause of his death was due to a bladder trouble. His remains were brought to this city Wednesday morning and buried in the Richmond cemetery by the side of his wife, who died here many years ago. His son, George and wife, and son-in-law, W. C. Meeks and wife, accompanied his body to this place.

Mr. Borders will be remembered by our older citizens as driver of the stage line between Richmond and Lexington many years, when our townsman, Mr. W. W. Pigg, owned and operated that line. He was of a warm hearted and kindly social disposition and had many friends, both here and in Lexington, as well as all along his route, there being scarcely a house, possibly not one, where he was not known and had extended favors and courtesies to the occupants.

Killed on Eve of Marriage.

Death ended what had been a happy prenuptial bridal party at midnight Wednesday when Miss Bright Kelley, aged twenty-two, of Covington, was instantly killed, and her fiancé, Brent Arnold, Jr., Verona apartments, Walnut Hills, and five others including Polk Laffoon, were injured in an automobile wreck. The party was returning from a dinner-dance at the Miami Boat Club. Miss Kelley and Arnold were to have been married next Wednesday. She was a niece of Roger Quisenberry, formerly of this county, now of Shelby, and frequently visited here where many friends will hear with sorrow of her death.
